Funds Transfer Agreement and Notice

The State of Nebraska has adopted a law Article 4A of the Uniform Commercial Code and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve has amended Subpart B of Regulation J. This law and regulation cover the movement of funds by means of wire transfers, Automated Clearing House (ACH) credits and some book transfers on the credit unions’ records.

The law is intended to establish a comprehensive legal framework covering the duties, responsibilities, and liabilities of all parties involved in a funds transfer. This agreement contains several notices, which we are required to provide to you, as well as establishes other terms of agreement which will apply to all funds transfers involving you and the credit union. Using the credit union to send or receive funds transfers shall constitute your acceptance of these terms of agreement.

To the extent that the terms contained in this agreement are different than those in any other agreement or terms of account, this agreement shall control and be deemed to modify such other agreements or terms of account.

1. This agreement and notice applies to funds transfers as defined in the Article 4A of the Uniform Commercial Code and Subpart B of Regulations J of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.
2. The credit union may establish or change cut-off times for the receipt and processing of funds transfer requests, amendments, or cancellations. Payment orders, cancellations, or amendments received after the applicable cut-off time may be treated as having been received on the next following funds transfer business day and processed accordingly.
- 3.The credit union may charge your account for the amount of any funds transfer initiated by you and by any person authorized by you as a joint tenant or other authorized party with the right of access to the account from which the funds transfer is to be made.
4. The credit union may establish, from time to time, security procedures to verify the authenticity of a payment order. You may be asked questions verifying your identity. You will be notified of any other security procedure, if any, to be used to verify payment orders issued by you or for which your account will be liable. You agree that the authenticity of the payment orders may be verified using that security procedure unless you notify the credit union in writing that you do not agree to that security procedure. In that event, the credit union shall have no obligation to accept any payment order from you or other authorized parties on the account until you and the credit union agree, in writing in, on an alternative security procedure.
5. If you send or receive a wire transfer, Fedwire may be used. Regulation J is the law covering Fedwire may be used. Regulation J is the law covering all Fedwire transactions. This means that your rights and liabilities in a wire transfer involving Fedwire will be governed by Regulation J.
6. If you give the credit union a payment order which identifies the beneficiary (recipient of the funds) by both name and identifying account number, payment may be made by the beneficiary’s bank on the basis of the identifying bank account number, even if the number identifies a person different than the named beneficiary. This means that you will be responsible to the credit union if the funds transfer is completed on the basis of the identification number you provide the credit union.
7. If you give the credit union a payment order which identi-

- fies an intermediary or beneficiary’s bank by both name and identifying number, a receiving bank may relay on the number as the proper identification even if it identifies a different institution other than the named bank. This means that you will be responsible for any loss or expenses incurred by a receiving bank which executes or attempts to execute the payment order in reliance on the identifying number you provided.
8. Credit given by us to you with respect to an automated clearinghouse credit entry is provisional until we receive final settlement for such entry through a Federal Reserve Bank. If we do not receive such final settlement, you are hereby notified and agree that we are entitled to a refund of the amount credited to you in connection with such entry, and the party making payment to you via such entry (i.e. the originator of the entry) shall not be deemed to have paid you in the amount of such entry. This means that the credit union may provide you with access to ACH funds before the credit union actually receives the money. However, if the credit union does not receive the money, then the credit union may reverse the entry on your account and you would be liable to repay the credit union.
 9. ACH transactions are governed by operating rules of the National Automated Clearing House Association. In accordance with these rules, the credit union will not provide you with next day notice of receipt of ACH credit transfers to your account. You will continue to receive notice of receipt of ACH items in the periodic account statements, which we provide.
 10. If the credit union received a funds transfer for you or for other persons authorized to have access to your account, under the operating rules of the National Automated Clearing House Association, which are applicable to ACH transactions involving your account, you agree that the credit union is not obligated to provide you with next-day notice of the receipt of transfer. The credit union will provide you with notification of the receipt of all funds transfers by including such items in the periodic account statements, which we provide. You may, of course, inquire between receipts of periodic statements whether or not a specific funds transfer has been received.
 11. We may accept on your behalf payments to your account which have been transmitted through one or more ACH and which are not subject to the Electronic Fund Transfer Act and your rights and obligations with respect to such payments shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the state of New York unless it has been otherwise specified in a separate agreement that the law of some other state shall govern.
 12. If the credit union becomes obligated under Article 4A to pay interest to You, You agree that the rate of interest to be paid shall be equal to the dividend rate, on a daily basis, applicable to the account at the credit union to which the funds transfer should have been made or from which the funds transfer has made.
- Your Ability to Withdraw Funds at the University of Nebraska Federal Credit Union
- Our policy is to make funds from your deposit available to you on the day we receive your deposit. At that time you can withdraw the funds in cash and we will use the funds to pay checks you have written.
- For determining the availability of your deposits, every day is a business day, except Saturdays, Sundays, and federal holidays. If you make a deposit on a day we are not open, we will consider that the deposit was made on the next business day we are open.

- Please remember that even after we have made funds available to you, and you have withdrawn the funds, you are still responsible for checks you deposit that are returned to us unpaid and for any other problems involving your deposit.
- Longer Delays May Apply
- In some cases, we will not make all the funds that you deposit by check available on the day of your deposit. Depending on the type of check that you deposit, funds may not be available until the second business day after the day of your deposit.
- If we are not going to make all of the funds from your deposit available on the day of your deposit, we will notify you at the time you make your deposit. We will also tell you when the funds will be available. If your deposit is not made directly to one of our employees, or if we decide to take action after you have left the premises, we will mail you the notice by the business day after we receive your deposit.
- If you will need the funds from the deposit right away, you should ask us when the funds will be available.
- In addition, funds you deposit by check may be delayed for a longer period under the following circumstances:
- We believe a check you deposit will not be paid.
 - You deposit checks totaling more than $6,725 on any one day.
 - You redeposit a check that has been returned unpaid.
 - You have over drawn your account repeatedly in the last six months.
 - There is an emergency, such as failure of communications or computer equipment.
- We will notify you if we delay your ability to withdraw funds for any of these reasons, and we will tell you when the funds will be available.
- IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT PROCEDURES FOR OPENING A NEW ACCOUNT

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account.

What this means for you: When you open an account, we will ask your name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may ask to see your driver’s license or other identifying documents.
